This is always the most could be noted in rural areas, because they have always been supported by the woman: a mother and housewife! Women in agriculture are as always the holders of farms, or unfavorable position in society have never been the owner. Accepting his unfavorable status position, many women's "quiet" their families and just left a trail through the importance and capacity of women. They are usually as such, housewives and farmers, remained prominent in their small communities. As long as it seemed, this is actually a comparative advantage as this is formally recognized strength of economic resourcefulness women in rural areas. Thanks to such women are "heard and word got out" of certain regions of Bosnia and Herzegovina, for the beauty of the rivers and fields of this country, for the titles of plants and flowers, and all the other natural beauties. Yes, these are the women who are out of "nothing" created resources and convert them into the natural beauty of their country. Our desire is to magnify their work in the way they deserve, their job is to make available larger players in the market, because it is a way that in the future will become more valued for their work.
